JOHN M. FOLKS
State Superintendent

The Honorable Henry Bellmon
Governor of Oklahoma

Members of the Oklahoma Legislature

The key to economic prosperity is found in the partnership between educators and the leaders of our government. It is through this commitment to excellence that our state will overcome many of the economic problems it faces today. The report submitted in this document is evidence that such a partnership is underway in Oklahoma.

The Executive and Legislative branches of our government, as well as those of us responsible for the administration of the common school education programs, are dedicated to a continued commitment to excellence for Oklahoma's public schools. We have established a pattern for this educational excellence that has included the efforts of many citizens, local school districts, business organizations, service agencies and institutions of higher education. This pattern will continue to grow as these partnerships thrive.

Many educational improvements have been implemented that affect students, teachers, administrators, and, ultimately, the future well-being of our state. As you read and reflect on this report, please be assured that we will continue our commitment to educational excellence...a commitment that we believe provides Oklahoma with the key to economic prosperity.

Respectfully submitted,

John M. Folks
